

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Wendy Little

Because: She demonstrated a wonderful ability to explain herself, along with that, she was able to pull information to support her statement.
- Provides link and names (?)

No. 2: Paige Boisvert

Because: She used an extensive amount of quotes and sources to back up her reasoning, and was one of the few that managed to give information, as opposed to just an opinion. - Just provides links.

No. 3: Margaret Gueter

Because: She posed a good point about the potential awkward scenes, however just provides the link

We are:

Delish Wilson

English 1006 G
10 October 2013

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: "Four Days of True Love" - Team Anderson

Because: She talks about how they fell in love and what the play is about.

No. 2: "Theme of the Play" - Lindsay Shore

Because: She told us what she thought the play was going to make us feel. As well, her word choice was well.

No. 3: "The Origins of the Play" - Paige Boisvert

Because: She discussed in detail how the play was made, and the reasons behind it.

We are:

Sean Harding      Elizabeth Hannay
Max Hornick      Maggie Guntel

English 1006 G
10 October 2013

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Alyssa Youssef - ~~Noel~~ Noel Coward's soulmate

Because: This person uses a direct quote from the article they and puts their impact on ~~what~~ <sup>how</sup> they feel about the play.

No. 2: Kali Pieters - ~~Noel Coward's~~ ~~soulmate~~ Private Lives 'still surprising

Because: Kali uses a direct quote and although it was not the full article, she still found it interesting nonetheless.

No. 3: Wendy Little - My anthropological philosophical

Because: Wendy used a good comparison between the play and a show to help describe the subject matter.

We are:

Michelle Savoie

Lindsay Shore

Catherine Smith

Cayley Spray

English 1006 G
10 October 2013

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Margaret Gunter

Because: It tells the story of the play without giving away too many details and has interesting details about the original actors, while providing a link to the article.

No. 2: Melissa Stewart

Because: summarizes the article well, makes good use of quotes, and maintains interest while not giving away the entire review, while including a link.

No. 3: Alyssa Youseff

Because: it gives a history of the play, which is unique, and describes what the play will be like, while including a link.

We are:

Kali Pieters
Mitchell @ordain

Kyle Munroe
Rachel Murphy

English 1006 G
10 October 2013

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Unable to Travel - Catherine Smith

Because: Not only did she properly tell us how to get to the link, but she brought up some very interesting points that would be worth discussing in class.

No. 2: Theme of the Play - Lindsay Shore

Because: This paragraph caught our attention because of the emphasis of the plays dark underside. We as a group think this would bring up great discussion in class.

No. 3: Noel Cowards - Swinmate - Alyssa Youssef

Because: Our interest was spiked by this paragraph because it referred to why the play was written and what it was based on.

We are:

Teah Anderson

Hannah Anstey

Meli Adam-Reimer

Devan Barreira

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Teah Anderson

Because: It explains why the play was written and for who. It also tells the reader exactly where to find the article.

No. 2: Devan Barriveau

Because: It does a very good job of telling us where to find the article as well as what is covered in it, or at least what the reader
found to be important

No. 3: Mitchell Quondam

Because: Although it only gives the link the writer includes segments from many different reviews being both negative & positive and some relating directly to the text of the play.

We are:

Paige Bouverf

JONAH BURRIDGE

Matthieu Cripps

English 1006 G
10 October 2013

Going deeper

The three reports we found most informative were by:

No. 1: Devan Barrieau

Because: It references the author and article and detailed description of the content provided.

No. 2: Paige Boisvert

Because: Explains why the article was interesting and quoted the source.

No. 3: Teah Anderson

Because: Tells you how to locate the article and a brief description of what it is about.

We are:

Wendy Little

Loisley Kelly

Victoria Judd

Luke Mills